

COMPANY'S AFFAIRS MORE COMPLICATED

American Paper Product Co., Receivership Further Involved by $80,000 Judgment

RETURNED AT ST. LOUIS.

Court's Order Makes Satisfaction of Claim First Lien Ahead of Bond Issue

The affairs of the American Paper Products company, which has been in receivership almost a year, were further complicated today when it became known that a judgment for $80,262 against the company as a first lien, which has priority over a $400,000 bond issue, was awarded the Lagerloef Trading company in circuit court in St. Louis, Wednesday.

The Lagerloef company filed a claim for $7,536.13 in the Rush circuit court, because of the Carthage plant being located in this county, on June 2, after the receivers here and at St. Louis had sold the company's holdings to the bond holders for $250,000.

The hearing on the claim was continued until June 29 on motion of the plaintiff and a further continuance was granted at the plaintiff's request on that date. Trial has now been set for September 14.

The issues are the same as those involved in the St. Louis case and a similar suit had to be brought here on account of one of the company's plants being located in this county.

The judgment granted in the St. Louis court grew out of two contracts for pulp which were repudiated by the American Paper Products company. The contracts were made with the Finnish Cellulose Association, a Scandinavian company, in August, 1920, but this company later assigned its rights to the Lagerloef Trading company.

The American Paper Products company, it was brought out in the trial, repudiated its contracts when a decline in the market occurred, and the plaintiff claims it suffered $72,000 damages.

Suit was brought against the Indiana corporation in federal court in Indianapolis and in October, 1923, the Lagerloef company was given judgment in the sum of $72,537. But the judgment could not be satisfied because in May, 1922, the Indiana corporation, owning the Carthage plant, had transferred its $300,000 of assets to the Missouri corporation bearing the name of the American Paper Products company.

The Lagerloef company then brought suit in the circuit court at St. Louis against the Missouri corporation for the amount of unpaid general judgment and costs. In its action it charged that the transfer had been made to avoid the judgment and defraud the plaintiff company as a creditor.

NEW SALEM GROCERYMAN IS INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Carl Dausch in Accident at Hawkin's Corner Caused by Tall Corn Obstructing View

CUT ON ARMS AND SHOULDERS

Carl Dausch, the groceryman and butcher of New Salem, narrowly escaped serious injury Thursday afternoon, when the meat truck he was driving, collided with another machine, driven by some Shelbyville man, at Hawkin's Corner, near New Salem.

The view at this corner is obstructed by the tall corn, which was attributed as the cause of the accident. Mr. Dausch stated that he did not blame the driver of the other car, for the cause of the accident, as both machines were running at a moderate rate of speed when they collided.

Mr. Dausch was severely cut on the arms and shoulders from the glass of the windshield and was bruised considerably, but otherwise was not injured. The top was torn off the meat truck, the windshield broken and the fenders smashed up. The other machine was only slightly damaged and the driver, the name not being known, escaped injury.

NEW TRAFFIC POST ON TRIAL

Said to be Improvement Over First One Installed

Another change in the automatic stop and go traffic signal was being made today at Main and Second street, as a part of the experimental program of the city council in order to determine what post is the best to buy.

The firm that had the first post on trial here, and which registered almost $10 a week for operating expenses, was putting their device back today with an improvement in the reflector that would not require the use of 36 lights as formerly. The post, that has been on trial for 30 days was replaced in order to give all firms a chance. The one taken out today has been operating at a cost of between $3 and $4 a week, due to the fact that not as many lights were required to light it. As soon as a definite arrangement can be made, the council will make a purchase.

WILL REST TONIGHT IN WARRIOR'S GRAVE

All That is Mortal of William Jennings Bryan Will be Laid to Rest in Arlington

20,000 SEE THE COMMONER

People Begin Filing Past Bier This Morning When "Church of the Presidents" is Opened

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 31—William Jennings Bryan will rest tonight in a warrior's grave beside the unknown soldier, generals and privates in the ranks who died in battle.

Today his body lay in state in the "church of the presidents" a weather-stained, red brick edifice enveloped by trees in the center of the bustling capital.

Through the night, when all lights of the city were dark, three comrades in arms of the Spanish-American war stood sentinels at his bier. Twenty thousand persons had marched up in line through the front door yesterday to see the Commoner.

This morning the doors were again thrown open and despite a drizzling rain more came to view his body. They were to be admitted from 8:30 a. m., until noon, when the church will be closed to the public in preparation for the final funeral service, which was to begin at 2:45 p. m.

The services will be opened with the singing of "Lead, Kindly Light." Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo will then enter the church chanting a Christian anthem. The Twenty Third and Ninth Psalms will be read. The latter was selected by Mrs. Bryan because it embodies the creed of fundamentalism in whose cause he died.

Then there will be sung the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers Living Still" and with only a slight military touch the body will be borne to the grave on the knoll at Arlington.

The funeral cortege on its journey to the grave will march through the center of the capital. At the gate of the cemetery, the batteries from the Sixteenth Field Artillery and the Third Cavalry Band will meet it to escort the casket to its final resting place.

Only brief services will be held at the grave. An army bugler will sound taps. No salute will be fired. The body will be lowered and covered with dirt.

Despite her condition and the strain of the ceremony, Mrs. Bryan is said to be as well as might be expected. (Continued on Page Two)

FORCES JOIN IN CRIME CRUSADE

Chicago Civic Bodies Unite to Remove Stigma as "Crime Capital of World"

DRAKE ROBBERY IS CRISIS

Bar Association Offers Ablest Attorneys as Special Prosecutor to Assist Crowe

Chicago, July 31—(U.P.)—Aroused to action by the daring robbery of the Drake hotel and the murder of a clerk who offered no resistance, Chicago's civic bodies today joined forces in an active crusade against crime.

The stigma of "the crime capital of the world" must be removed was the united decision of law enforcing bodies, the Chicago Bar Association and all organizations interested in the city's welfare.

The state's attorney's office obtained indictments against the three surviving bandits. Police announced the capture of the single missing robber was imminent. Chief Justice Jacob Hopkins called for twice the number of criminal judges to prevent delays in bringing criminals to trial.

The Chicago Bar Association offered "any number of our ablest attorneys," to act as special prosecutors aiding State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

"The Chicago Bar Association realizes the seriousness of the crime situation prevailing here," Russell Whitman, its president, declared in a pronouncement.

"Of late the crimes in Chicago have been most sensational and most violent. Chicago has a bad name and unenviable reputation all over the world because of its sensational crimes. Extremely drastic action must be taken. We do all in our power to assist in the swift punishment of criminals at the bar of justice."

AVOID CONFUSION, IS PLEA

Salvation Army Captain Refers to Volunteers of America Effort

Capt. Joe Schlotter of the local Salvation Army corps today issued a statement, asking that the people of Rushville and vicinity not confuse the Volunteers of America Tag Day, to be held here Saturday, with the Salvation Army work, which is largely local in character and is supported by local contributions.

Work among prisoners and their dependents, for which the Tag Day is to be held, according to the Volunteers of America, is also done by the Salvation Army, Capt. Schlotter points out, and is in charge of a special efforts secretary at 24 S. Capitol Ave., Indianapolis. He also pointed out that work of this character is done by local officers who are on the ground and make investigations. The statement was issued, he said, to prevent duplication and misunderstanding.

BOOSTERS CLUB ENDS JULY JAUNT

Last of Monthly Farm Bureau Meetings Attended at Raleigh Thursday Evening

J. T. SCULL, JR., IS SPEAKER

Rushville Entertainers Please Last Crowd With Vocal and Instrumental Music

The Rushville Boosters club concluded its July jaunt throughout the county Thursday night, attending the last of the series of monthly township farm bureau meetings at Raleigh, when a crowd estimated at nearly three hundred people was present.

Although the night was bad due to rain or threat of rain, a large delegation of Rushville boosters was on hands to assist in the program, which was immensely enjoyed by the members of the Washington Township Farm Bureau and their families.

The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Raleigh school house and George Ertek, chairman of the bureau, presided until the routine business for the month was transacted.

The visiting boosters were then told that they could have the remainder of the time and Omer Trusler, representing the local club, took charge. He led the crowd in community singing, everyone joining heartily into the familiar songs which were sung.

The main address was delivered by Dr. J. T. Scull, Jr., of this city, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, who talked along the general lines of community development. He showed how pessimism handicapped community growth and described the average pessimist in a humorous vein.

Mrs. Ruth Keena, who is associated with Dr. J. B. Kinsinger in his practice here, gave a graphic description of the program arranged for the annual Rush county chautauqua, opening at the Memorial park coliseum in Rushville Sunday, August 9.

The male quartet was a big hit with the crowd, just as it has been at all of the farm bureau meetings, and the singing of Mrs. C. E. Walden likewise was immensely appreciated. This group of singers, together with Mrs. Herschel VanMatre, the accompanist, have attended all twelve of the meetings of the Continued on Page Two

CURFEW WILL RING IN INDIANAPOLIS AT 9 P. M.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31—Old time curfew regulations will go into effect tonight for youths of Indianapolis. Ernest Kinston, chairman of the board of safety, ordered policemen to start sounding a nine o'clock signal for youths under sixteen to get off the streets. "There will be fewer petty cases of thievery if young boys are at home in bed instead of roaming the streets at night," Kinston said.

MICHIGAN SENATOR IS AMONG SPEAKERS

W. N. Ferris, Noted for Quaintness and Dry Humor, at Chautauqua Thursday, August 13

CALLED RADICAL, YET SANE

Will Bring One of Most Constrative and Interesting Lectures to the Assembly

It is customary for the annual Rush county chautauqua to bring to the people of the county a man who is prominent in public life and this year's chautauqua, which begins one week from Sunday, will be no exception.

Senator W. N. Ferris of Michigan will lecture Thursday afternoon, August 13, at two o'clock.

Senator Ferris says he is not famous, is not a great orator, is not a pessimist, but he is famed among chautauqua and lyceum folk for giving lectures which are entirely within the grasp of the average listener and yet so filled with genuine food for thought that they are never forgotten. Ferris's humor is accidental, not intentional; his irony and sarcasm are inherited; his practical sense is the result of his educational, religious, and political knock-downs. In education, religion and politics he is a radical. Those who are searching for a man with a real message will find in Senator Ferris a man who instructs, awakens and inspires.

As president of the Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, he has stood at the very front of modern educational development. In politics he has risen close to "the top". There is a quaintness, a dry humor, and wit about his addresses, which will keep the audiences on edge to catch every syllable. This is best illustrated perhaps by the following statement:

"By way of special diversion he has always been a democrat. He has been a candidate for mayor of Big Rapids, for superintendent of public instruction, for Congress, for governor of Michigan. Owing to a scarcity of democrats he has never been allowed to render his country any special service. His humor is accidental, not intentional; his irony and sarcasm are inherited; his practical sense is the result of his educational, religious and political knock-downs. Strange as it may seem, all of his available time for the platform is in demand."

His is the art of a speaker who fills his address with such a wealth of incident and logic and common sense that every one is eager to listen. Continued on Page Two

MADDEN TO CONFER WITH COOLIDGE ON EXPENSES

Chairman of House Appropriations Committee to Discuss Plan to Hold Down Expenditures

PART OF TAX CUT PROGRAM

Swampscott, Mass., July 31—(U.P.)—President Coolidge approached another step today in his campaign to hold down federal expenditures to three billion dollars a year.

Representative Madden, Illinois, chairman of the house appropriations committee, was coming to the summer White House to discuss the departmental and other appropriation bills which will be drafted by his committee and presented to congress in December.

Upon the success of this committee in holding down the size of the budget, depends the success of Coolidge's tax reduction scheme.

In the last fiscal year, the government spent about $3,500,000,000 and received in revenue appropriations $250,000,000 above this amount.

Administration leaders have estimated a tax reduction ranging from $300,000,000, to $500,000,000 can be made, the estimate varying in proportion to the belief in the ability of the administration to hold the budget close to three billion dollars.

Madden will be the chief agent in attempting to work out the details of a plan to slash the government expenses for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, to a point that will allow a still larger reduction.

van were ordered decreased 10 percent.

In other cities the increases ordered ranged from 5 percent to 100 percent in Cannelton, Perry county. Orders issued by the state board will cause the county boards of review to reconvene next Tuesday to act on the recommendations.

The action of the state tax board adds nearly $50,000,000 to the total valuation of real estate and personal property in Indiana.

Even with the increases ordered by the board, the total valuation of locally assessed property will be nearly $100,000,000 less than last year.

The assessments in Rush county, as made by the township assessors and passed on by the county board of review, were not disturbed by the state tax board, as Rush county was not numbered among the counties where changes were made. Local taxing officials have predicted that the local assessments would not be changed by the state board.

ten. The fact that he was a democrat did not prevent him from being given one of the most important offices of the state, and his work now as Senator is resulting in some constructive legislation which will be of benefit to the entire country. Senator Ferris will bring one of the sanest, most constructive and most interesting lectures to our chautauqua which we have ever enjoyed.

In this mad age of "jazz" it is wholesomely refreshing to sit across the footlights from Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris and hear his sane, calm analysis of the vital tasks and problems which must be solved by the American people if we are to keep our place in the vanguard of American civilization. Senator Ferris is to be one of the outstanding features of the coming chautauqua assembly.

Back of the unlimited supply of humor, quaint philosophy, irony and satire, lies a background of real intellectual achievement and deep seated conviction.

Curse or Blessing, Which?

The Highway Flareup

The late flareup of the old dispute between the Indiana state highway commission and its enemies indicates that those who are attempting to discredit the commission are still at work even though they have been defeated at every turn.

The defeat of the "Ripper bill" in the last legislature, which sought to destroy the present commission and make it a political football, should have been enough to teach the most persistent, but unabashed, those who seek to control the commission for their own selfish purposes have not given up hope.

The indictment of a member of the commission, its director, a former superintendent of a commission garage and three Indianapolis junk dealers, was not enough to bring about the passage of the "Ripper bill," and now those who actuated it are endeavoring to be-smirch the commission's reputation with a third examination of the commission's records by the state board of accounts.

It was on the basis of the first two examinations and reports by the accounts board that the indictments were returned. The reports were impounded by the court and have never been made public.

The indictments, however, regardless of the merit of the charges, have given enemies of the commission good propaganda which they have not hesitated to use at every opportunity, with the result that some people are beginning to believe that the accused are guilty, before they have been given a trial.

The campaign of "whisperings" came to a climax when John D.
Williams, director and central figure in the fight, announced that he welcomed a "thorough investigation" of the commission's records by the board of accounts. Reports had been circulated that the commission had denied access to the pay rolls and expense accounts of the commission.

What the people of Indiana are interested in is a non-political, honest and fair administration of the highway commission's affairs. They are not interested in any quarrel between the gravel and stone men.
They expect the commission to hold fast to the specifications adopted by the federal government because in that way the taxpayers of Indiana are assured of the maximum amount of value in road building and men-tainance for taxes paid.

The present commission and director have repeatedly stated that they do not fear an investigation and they have demanded that the charges against them be brought into open court for trial. They do not want dismissal, but exoneration in a fair and impartial hearing.

The controversy has reached the stage where nothing but a trial on the charges will satisfy the taxpayers of Indiana. They will want to know, if the indicted men are guilt-less as they claim, why the state board of accounts should be used for the purpose of satisfying political grudges. Whenever the state board of accounts becomes an instrument to blacken the names of men in public life, its usefulness has passed.

Belief in Signs

People who do not believe in signs, particularly road signs, in this day and age are as a rule of few days on earth.

Road signs are put up for a purpose—to save people's lives. When their warning is disregarded, it is ignorance of the rankest sort.

A sign reading "Danger, Bad Curve," means just what it says. If there were no danger at the curve, motor clubs and highway commissions would not have erected one there.

A warning sign signifies that there have been accidents at that point—probably fatal accidents—

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Congress
passes a lot of laws it is impossible to understand. They can be read in two or more different ways.

Or they contain conflicting clauses or conflict with other laws.
Or nobody's able to figure out just what they do mean.

What would seem to be the natural thing to do when one of these mixed up laws gets onto the statute books? Why, to ask Congress about it, of course.

Congress passed it. If anybody knows what Congress' idea was in doing it, it certainly must be Congress itself.

So why, when the executive branch of the government runs up against one of these incompre-hensibly worded enactments, does it not go to the legislative branch and say, "This thing doesn't make sense—what in heck were you trying to get at?" Then it could be explained, or fixed.

BUT no. That isn't the system at all. Instead, the puzzle either is passed on up to the courts for an "interpretation" or turned over to one of the executive's numerous administrative bureaus or commissions to be puzzled on.

Now a judicial decision on a question of constitutionality is one thing. If Congress attempts something the fundamental code forbids, then doubtless it's somebody's business to point out that it can't be done.

But interpreting and guessing laws into shape is different—it amounts to making them.

The judges do their interpreting with such straight faces—their faith in their own infallibility is so well-grounded—that the bystander, watching them at it, isn't at all to realize how ridiculous it is.
How do they know what meaningless means, any better than anybody else?

The executive officials, however, don't all take their guessing quite so seriously.

The fact is, a high functionary of the So-and-so Bureau told me recently, "We never've been able to dope out how Congress intended the Such-and-such Act to work, but we've agreed on what we thought perhaps it meant and that's the way we enforce the law."

People go to jail and pay big fines on the strength of it, too.

The Hodge Podge

By a Paraphraser With a Soul

In judging others, we generally condemn ourselves.

A good time to speak for your share of the world's goods is all the time.

Misfortune seldom comes unbidden, so why ask for it?

Blunders come largely from letting our "feelings" interpret our duties.

Political uncertainty and pessimistic predictions can not hurt business unless business allows them to.

Observe carefully what pleases or displeases you in others and be persuaded that, generally speaking, the same things will please or displease them in you.

A sense of humor is not half as valuable as common sense—there are sense.

Remarkable motion picture in "Circe last night at the Castle theatre for Mae Murray is the star of "Circe of the best work of her career in this production. Ibanes, who is the author of "Circe the Enchantress," has written a highly dramatic and yet, romantic story which provides Miss Murray with one of the best shown rare skill in his handling of the picture.

Mae Murray enacts a triple role.
The mythical Circe, the artless, sweet, convent girl, the tempestuous, pleasure-seeking coquette; Miss Murray plays them all with the feeling only known to the great artists of the drama.

KNOCKS OUT THAT TIRED FEELING IN NO TIME. PUTS "KICK" INTO YOU

No Need of Dragging An Undernourished Body Around the House or at Work

If there is anything that gets one's goat it is to have that dragged out, knocked out, down and out feeling all day long. One gets up in the morning feeling that way. Did you ever stop to think that it is just WEAKNESS. Now what makes one weak? Lack of nourishing food. But the average man or woman will tell you that he or she gets plenty of food. Probably so, probably they have had TOO MUCH FOOD IN THE PAST SO THAT NOW THE FOOD JUST LIES THERE IN AN UNDIGESTED MASS, THROWING OFF GAS AND DISTRESSING
THE PERSON THUS AFFECTED.

It doesn't make any difference how much you eat but it does make a difference how much good you get out of what you do eat. If you are one of those who have the symptoms mentioned, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of DI-JO.

Take it exactly according to directions and you'll find your food furnishing nourishment to the body.
You'll find the gas disappearing.
You'll find your body taking on new life and you'll be taking a greater interest in everything.

The bowels may be sluggish and if so it is just as much to your advantage to see that poisonous waste of the body is eliminated as it is to see that the proper food is placed in the stomach to nourish the tissues. If the bowels are lazy, get a bottle of Di-Vac. It isn't harsh and it will give you relief. At your druggists.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican,
Monday, August 1, 1910

The congregation of the First Presbyterian church of this city through an unanimous vote have asked the session to extend a call to the Rev. J. B. Murcham, who is now a pastor of a Presbyterian church in Ripley, Ohio.

Louis Thatcher is thankful that they grow trees on the principal streets of Knightstown or it is highly probable that he and Miss Lucile Meredith would have been seriously hurt or perhaps killed in a runaway accident in that town yesterday afternoon. They were thrown out of a buggy, when their horse frightened at a traction car and both were bruised and scratched considerably.
The horse ran into a tree, breaking loose from the buggy.

Miss Effie Coleman of Oxford, O., who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Emily Coleman, went to Chicago, Ill., this morning to spend the remainder of the summer.

Mesdames Eva Hunt, Elizabeth
Logan, Anna Watson and Warren Logan have returned to their homes in LaFountaine after attending the funeral of Mrs. Gideon Wellman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Frazee have gone to Culver for a visit with their son, John, who is attending the summer session of Culver Military academy.

Miss Bernice Anderson has returned from an extended visit with friends in Benton Harbor, Mich.

Miss Fleta Ward of Dayton, Washington, who has been the guest of Miss Mary Amos in North Perkins street for the past few days, left today for Cleveland, Ohio, for a few days visit before returning home.

J. B. Winship and daughter, Miss Fanny, have returned from a trip to the southwest.

The Misses Rubie Bell and Blanche Zimmerman of Memphis, Tenn., are spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell of Union township.

William Inlow of Manila has received word from his nephew, Edgar Kaufman, of Cedar Point, Ohio, that the latter had married a young lady of Hamilton, Ohio, Tuesday. Mrs.
Kaufman is well known at Manila, having visited at that place on many different occasions.

John Conroy and Earl Kitchen invaded the blackberry precinct near Andersonville today.

On Saturday, August 20, the board of commissioners in session will receive sealed proposals for the construction of a 55 foot concrete arch over Abanue creek in Washington township known as the Fred Lightfoot arch.

HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINT

Where One Gallon
Equals Two

Quality does tell! Measured by covering capacity and length of wear, one gallon of Hanna's Green Seal Paint proves itself equal to two gallons of so-called "cheap" paint. And there's a reason: viz.,—no paint can be better than the ingredients that go into it.

contains only highest grade materials, universally recognized as necessary in making good paint. If a paint is sold at a ridiculously low price it simply means that it is lacking in these necessary ingredients and contains cheap adulterants.

The exact formula is printed on every package of Green Seal.

Watson Youngster Works

Washington, July 31 — Joseph Cannon Watson, 17 year old son of Senator and Mrs. Watson, has his first job. With the close of school he decided to seek employment for the vacation season. He applied to the U. S. Geological Survey. The job he drew took him to Arizona, the hottest state in the Union. He is cutting sage brush on the burning planes of a state where the temperature has recently soared to 114. He gets $3 a day for this manual labor in the broiling sun and surely earns the money. He intends to save his money to provide a fund with which to pay his way through college. Joe Watson is a namesake of "Uncle Joe" Cannon. He got his lessons in thrift from the famous man for whom he was named.
